

In our previous issue, the article “Outsmarting Diabetes” appeared, in which the sub-headings, voicing shock and dismay at being diagnosed with diabetes, were mistakenly attributed to Mr. Yeskoo, who was featured in the story. The writer would like to clarify that the quotes used in the sub-headings had been obtained from other medical files and in no way reflected the reaction of Mr. Yeskoo to his diabetes diagnosis. On the contrary, Mr. Yeskoo’s faith in God and education about diabetes has allowed him to effectively manage this serious disease.
